OUR PHILOSOPHY

Plants That Transform Spaces

We grow slowly. Every plant in the Verdant collection spends at least a season in our greenhouses in the Dutch lowlands before it is considered ready, acclimatised to the kind of light and humidity a home actually offers.

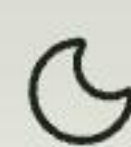

The result is a plant that does not sulk for three months after it arrives — and a room that feels finished in a way furniture alone never manages.

PLANT CARE

Four things that decide everything

Master these and you will keep almost any houseplant alive. Everything else is refinement.

Watering

Water when the top 5 cm of soil is dry.

Drench fully, then let it drain — most plants die of kindness, not thirst.

Sunlight

CARE — 6 MIN READ

Repotting Without the Panic

A calm, step-by-step method for moving a root-bound plant into its next home — and the three mistakes that set plants back a season.

REVIEWS

From 10,000 plant parents

“The monstera arrived in better condition than anything I have ever bought locally. Packed in moulded pulp, not a single leaf bruised.”
